

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSIONS AND SUGGESTIONS

This chapter shows the final result that has been done in the form of a conclusion and suggestions according to the findings and discussions that was explained below.

5.1 Conclusions

The conclusion is drawn based on the research's objective, which is to address the issue related to the types of code-switching used by Nessie Judge in her YouTube channel titled "JANGAN NONTON KALO GAK KUAT!! | #NERROR." Based on the analyzed data, the research's conclusion is as follows.

The study identified three types of code-switching used by Nessie Judge in her YouTube channel: inter-sentential switching, intra-sentential switching, and tag-switching. Among these, tag-switching was the most frequently utilized by Nessie Judge in delivering her content. To address the central research question of how code-switching is used by Nessie Judge in her video content, the researcher provides a brief explanation of the results of the observational data analysis. First, code-switching is employed by Nessie Judge to enhance the viewer's comprehension of the overall topic in her video content. Through code-switching, Nessie Judge adapts to different topics in both Indonesian and English. This approach enables viewers to grasp the content more quickly and easily without having to understand the entire topic comprehensively. The second aspect influenced by the practice of code-switching is that viewers while watching the video, gain specific meanings and purposes from the content.

5.2 Suggestions

Based on the specific research findings presented earlier, the following recommendations are made:

1. For readers, the author provides guidance based on the analysis and conclusions of the paper. The results of this research are expected to facilitate an understanding of sociolinguistic theory, especially code-switching.
2. The researcher hopes that this research can inspire further investigations into code-switching in films and other literary works in the future. Additionally, in line with the author's opinion, those involved in related research may find this study beneficial. The theory used in this research may not be the same as the theory used by subsequent researchers.
3. The researcher is also confident that this research can provide new insights in the field of sociolinguistics and expand the horizons of future sociolinguistic scholars.